We may also receive the same direct data indirectly, from third parties, as described above.

SHARING OF INFORMATION

We do not usually share your personal information with other parties. However, in order to fulfil our obligations to our business partners, customers, to comply with the legal requirements or on the basis of a legitimate interest of Company or a third party, your personal data may be transferred to the following persons:

- Any company of the Company Group to the extent necessary for the provision of services, for the purposes of financial accounting, auditing and corporate governance of Company, as during the use of integrated information systems and equipment by Company Group companies;
- Government and law enforcement institutions, authorities;
- Other persons or authorities, if required to do so by the law;
- Company service providers, such as:
lawyers, auditors, insurance companies,
other persons to the extent necessary for the respective service to be provided to us properly;
- Data processors involved;
- Data controllers when Company processes your personal data as a data processor;
- Company business partners,
- (Potential) Company partners (business customers) in their implementation of the Know Your Customer principle, in which case information related to the structure, management and final beneficiaries of Company (or Company group) is provided.

In accordance with the legal requirements, we may transfer your personal data to other persons not specified in this Privacy Policy.

We will only transfer your personal data to persons other than those indicated in this Privacy Policy with your consent to such personal data transfer or upon receipt of your request to transfer your personal data to specific persons.

When transferring your personal data to other persons, we always follow the principle of data minimization and ensure the confidentiality and security of the personal data transferred.

PERSONAL DATA PROCESSORS

In order to fulfil our obligations, as well as to ensure the operations of Company and for other legitimate purposes, we may use data processors (e.g. persons providing us with data centre, server, website administration, document archiving, accounting and other services) who process the personal data in accordance with our instructions and within the scope determined by us to the extent necessary to achieve the purposes of the processing of personal data. Any company in the Company group can also act as a data processor.

When selecting the data processors, we require that the data processors have appropriate organizational and technical safeguards in place to ensure the security and confidentiality of personal data.

COMPANY AS A DATA PROCESSOR

When we provide certain services related to the personal data we process, we may also act as a personal data processor. In such cases we act in accordance with the lawful instructions and requirements of the personal data controller, including those related to organizational and technical safeguards, and process your personal data in accordance with the lawful instructions of such personal data controller.

TIME LIMITS FOR THE STORAGE OF PERSONAL DATA

We ensure that your personal data is processed for no longer than is necessary to achieve the purposes for which the data is processed, no longer than provided for by the legislation.

We will usually store the personal data during the provision of services and the term of the agreement, and for 10 years after the provision of the services or the end of the agreement, except when longer terms are required to comply with the document archiving or other legal requirements or longer terms are specified by the data controller.

If an agreement with a potential business partner or customer is not concluded, we will store the information related to the implementation of the Know Your Customer principle for 6 months from the end of the contract negotiations.

Upon the expiration of the storage period, the personal data collected will either be deleted, destroyed or anonymised. Some personal data stored in computer files may still be available for a period of time on data backup systems after the expiration of the storage period, but access to such personal data is strictly limited.

SECURITY AND CONFIDENTIALITY OF PERSONAL DATA

Since we especially value the security of your personal data, we use appropriate technical and administrative safeguards to protect the personal data collected against loss, unauthorized use and alteration.

Your privacy is of the utmost importance to us, which is why we handle all personal data strictly in accordance with the principle of confidentiality.

YOUR RIGHTS

As a data subject, you have the following rights listed below in this section.

The right to know (be informed) about the processing of your personal data.

The right to access your data and to be informed on how it is being processed.

The right to request the rectification of incorrect, incomplete or inaccurate personal data.

The right to require the destruction of personal data or the restriction of the processing of data if it is established that personal data is processed unlawfully or fraudulently.

The right to object to the processing of personal data, except in cases where such personal data is processed in the legitimate interest of our company or a third party, and your interests are not overriding.

The right to withdraw consent to the processing of your data.

You can request the erasure of all data we have collected about you in order to exercise your “right to be forgotten”. We have the right to refuse your request “to be forgotten” in cases provided for by the law.

You have the right to request that the personal data you have provided, if it is processed on the basis of consent or agreement and the processing is performed using automated means, be transferred, i.e. forwarded to another controller or provided to you in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format, if technically possible (this applies if you have provided the personal data yourself and if the personal data is processed using automated means on the basis of consent or conclusion and performance of an agreement).

You have the right not to be subject to solely automated processing of your data, including profiling.

We will normally provide you with the requested information free of charge, unless your requests are manifestly unfounded or disproportionate, in particular because of their repetitive content. Furthermore, if your requests are manifestly unfounded or disproportionate, we have the right to refuse to comply with your request. If you do not provide a form for submitting the information in your request, we will provide you with the information in the same form as the request was received.

If you have doubts about the lawfulness of the processing of your personal data or you are not satisfied with the solution to the situation, you have the right to submit a complaint regarding such processing of personal data with the State Data Protection Inspectorate (address: L. Sapiegos 17, Vilnius, e-mail: ada@ada.lt, website: <https://vdai.lrv.lt/>) or a competent court. You have the right to complain about our actions or omissions.

If you are dissatisfied with the solution to the situation, we encourage you to contact Company first, using the contact details indicated in this Privacy Policy. Upon receipt of your request, we will respond to you within one month. In exceptional cases, for valid reasons, we may extend the deadline for our response by informing you hereof. In that case, the extended period shall not exceed three months from the date of receipt of the request, unless otherwise provided for in the legislation.

If you suffer material or non-material damage as a result of our breach of your rights as a data subject, you are entitled to receive a compensation.

DATA ON THE WEBSITE SERVER

The server hosting our website may record the requests you present to the server (address of the website opened, your IP address, session duration, browser description, protocol version and request method). This data is used to ensure safe and proper functioning of the website. In addition to that, if necessary, the data is used to investigate potential security breaches.

We process this data on the basis of the principle of legitimate interest, to ensure the technical availability and security of the website. The data is stored for no longer than seven days.

WEBSITE USAGE STATISTICS

To improve our website, we collect various data related to website visitors. It is important for us to know which information is interesting to our website visitors, how often they connect, which browsers and devices they use.

We collect statistical information using Google Analytics tools which allow us to capture and analyse the reported data. For more information on how Google Analytics works and the information these tools allow to collect and analyse, please visit
